THE Engineering and Mining Jour nal, whose name belies its calling, predicted that silver would go to 90 cents by Jan. 1st if the Sherman act were repealed. Ite prediction is a good deal like the President's Hawaitan policy: it will not stand the

It is said that the avoirdupois of Grover Cleveland and Queen Lil of Honolula only differs two pounds. An eastern paper has started a guessing contest as to which one the extra pounds belong. And in the face of this discourtesy the president still pine his faith to the east.

THE Teachers' Institute took occasion to decide unanimously that the compulsory school law is a good one, but not properly enforced. It has never been in force in Cochise county. For some reason or other the superintendents of public instruction for the three terms during which it has been a law have declined to entorce it. Cochise is the only county in the territory in which it has not been enforced. Wherever it has been tried is has proved most beneficial.

THERE appears to be a misunderstanding regarding the act passed by congress providing that no work is necessary to hold mining claims for As originally passed, after adoption by the conference of the house and senate and as published in the Congressional Record, the official paper of congress, it contained a clause which provided that only bona fide residents of the territory or adjacent state or territory could take advantage of its provisions. Since then the country has been flooded with circulars purporting to be sent out from Washington containing the act as signed by the president, which does not contain this clause, but which allows corporations, non-residents or any one to take advantage of its provisions. Corporations and non-residents are taking advantage of its provasions in every county in the territory, and the question arises, are they right in so doing? If the law does apply to them it was doctored before going to the president, or else the circulars being sent broadcast are "little jokers," of which non-resident mine owners should beware.

The Kid in Mexico.

News comes via Nogales that Kid and a small body of followers have been depredating in Arispe district. They killed one prominent Maine rancher and sacked several ranches and mining camps. At the mining camp of Van Dorn they fired all the buildings and carried off and destroyed all the goods and supplies, including a small stock of merchandise.

The raid took the people completely by surprise. As soon as the news reached the prefect of the Arispe dis trict he sent couriers to different ranches and mining camps to warn the people, and started a detail of state soldiers in pursuit of the rene-

Ed Thompson was arrested on a warrant sworp out by L. Larrieu, and will have an examination on Monday on a charge of obtaining about two thousand bottles under false pretenses. The hearing will be before Justice Duncan. The transaction upon which the charge is based occurred at Fairbank. The accused needed a couple of thousand bottles to complete a carload which he was about to ship. He purchased them from Larrieu, telling him that Paul Demartini would pay him for them. There was some bitch in the collection of the money, hence the arrest.

"The Gobline'll catch you if you den't watch out," by Miss Cook of Janeiro. Benson was an excellent imitation.

Alice Crable sang "Kiss and let's make up" in her usual pleasing way. fight. James Herrick spoke one of Spartions' harangues to the gladiators in a forcible style.

A vocal solo by Miss Nettie Rafferty proved her voice not to have lost any of its sweetness nor her popularity to have lost any of its hold upon a Tombstone audience.

A reading by Mrs. Bradley on 'Home" was a thorough and sensible dissertation on how one should make a home attractive.

Ed Land by special request entranced the audience with his favorite guitar solo, "The Spanish Retreat." To an encore he added another to his long list of credit marks.

Mrs. Harwood sang "The Cottage by the Sea," which was very pleasing to the audience, judging from the applause which followed.

Miss Summers' recitation, the ever popular "Barbara Frietchie." reflected credit upon the young lady, whose earnest manner left a most favorable New Orleans for the hanging of the impression.

A solo by Mrs. Downs, "Waiting a Letter from Thee," was given in a charming manner.

H. L. Ravin of Wilgus volunteered recitation, which was well received, reception was in order. A few retired but the majority remained to enjoy a Liliuokalani. It caused a sensation brief, social, informal chat with old friends and an introduction to the new faces present from other sections of the county. The affair was a complete success:
